Over the past 26 years of working in Motion Pictures both in Film & Television I have encountered a huge variety of cameras, lenses and lighting technology. My experience is built on the basics from the early film and video cameras to the digital formats more commonly used today. As a full member of the Association of Camera Operators (ACO) I have technical knowledge of the camera/lighting equipment being developed for the industry and how this equipment can be pushed to achieve truly remarkable images. My extensive knowledge of VFX means that I'm able to work collaboratively with other departments on set to enrich creativity and produce jaw-dropping results. This was most recently shown in my work for Apple TV's 'Lovely Little Farm' which was a blend of live-action and VFX. I believe that my commitment and passion in my work leaves lasting impressions. I take great pride in the fact that clients I worked with over twenty years ago still request me for everything they produce to this day.
